

About Our Instructor

John L. Terry, III CEC is an ordained minister, conference speaker, and financial planner. He is the author of two books "Dollars and Sense" and "Debt to Surplus" and is the president of ExPrSS Securities, Inc. and Insurance Marketing Group of America, Inc. John is also a Certified Estate Counselor with the ReSecurity First Legal Association.

Since the early 1980's John has worked with local churches and Bible colleges to teach God's people how to manage their financial affairs according to Scripture. His practical teaching style presents powerful truths in an "easy to understand" manner.

John's vision is to see God's people learn to better manage what He has placed in their keeping so the world can see that the Gospel is practical, even when it comes to money.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

It's All About Money...

The recorded words of Jesus teach us more about money than about any other subject. As Scripture is inspired, it is not by coincidence this occurred. God is communicating to His people the importance He places on how well we manage our financial affairs.

Of the 38 recorded parables of Jesus, 16 of those deal specifically with money management.

We will ALL give an accounting of our faithfulness to God

Jesus spoke on the subject of money five times more than prayer, as He knew that if we did not learn how to control money, money would control us.

Over 2000 verses in Scripture reveal God's plan for managing money. Luke 16:11 says we can't be trusted with the true riches of heaven if we can't handle money, yet most Christians know very little about Biblical stewardship.

A Return to Biblical Principles

Dollars and Sense is a practical "How To" approach to teaching Biblical stewardship principles to God's people.

Topics we cover include:

- Establishing God's Ownership
- Biblical Giving: Tithes & Offerings
- Breaking the Curse of Debt
- How Money Works
- Leaving an Inheritance

Thousands of families in the United States and abroad have learned how to apply God's principles in the area of financial accountability through attending a "Focus on Finances" series.

Making Dollars and Sense

We teach God's people how to better manage money using proven Biblical truths, primarily through a weekend "Focus on Finances" series taught in your local church.

Our message is practical, and we've seen financial miracles take place all over the country as families have applied these truths in their lives. Let us share these with your church today.

Focus on Finances

Yes, I'm interested in more information on hosting a "Focus on Finances" event in my local church.

I want to schedule a "Focus on Finances" event now

I want more information on hosting an event.

NOTE: We do not have a "set fee" to minister to your congregation. We work on a love offering basis, but do ask that the host church cover our travel expenses to and from your event and provide lodging whenever possible.
